

CHADARAM BALA MANIKANTA

Education

LKG – V Standard: JMJ English Medium School, a missionary institution where I learned discipline in a hard way (read caning), and my love for English language.

VI – X Standard: 2003-2008 | Jawahar Navodaya Vidyalaya, a country version of Hogwarts, where I have lived most of my fruitful life, where I found respect for my teachers, and where I learned about novels, friendship, solitude, and hunger. Scored 76.2%.

XI and XII: 2008-2010 | Sri Chaitanya Junior College, a regression of two years, where I acquired nothing but headache and 1.5 myopia. Scored 80.1%.

B.Tech: 2010-2014 | Viswanadha Institute of Technology and Management (JNTU,K)

It's all about 60kms of journey every day, exhausted first hours, group studies, night outs, friends, movies, more novels, and initiation of my writing days. This is where I discovered that I want to be a writer. Scored 58%.

Work

Pentagist | (2013) – A trivial website where I used to write content like entertainment blogs.

VGulp | (2014 June – 2015 November) | A pub based start-up in Bengaluru, where I used to write about city pubs, trivial articles on alcohol among others.

Way2Online | (2015 December – 2016 September) | Worked for their short news app where I learned to expend words in an economical way.

Hobbies

I observe people. Like many of them. That's where I get the inspiration for my short stories.

I read books. I get lost in those sometimes and some of those, which are brilliant, get lost in me, infused.

I try my hand at short stories, poems, book & movie reviews.

Strengths

If I want to, or there is some emergency like I have to return it by the next morning, I can read a whole book in one night.

I can express my feelings quite well while writing, but with lesser efficiency when talking. I'm still trying to improve that.

I know the names of all the characters in Game of Thrones.

When it comes to writing, I love to take responsibility and complete what I'm assigned to. And I'm always open to challenges.

Weaknesses

I don't know how to put this, but people with big Adam's apple make me cry. I empathize with them, especially if I see them eating. I don't know the memory association behind that.

Achievements and accomplishments

There are only a few notable achievements I had so far:

I won the final ultimate exam on the last day of my coaching center for Navodaya entrance. However, when I went home, my dad inflated that happiness with a simple line, 'Well, not this, you must get the seat'.

In my college, I was absent for a couple of days and by the time when I come back, project batches had been sorted out. I had to do the mini project alone and I did it. I won the prize.

When I was working with Way2Online, I won the best employee month of the year, apparently for pushing a story which increased the overall traffic of the app by two times.

Conclusion

I hereby state that everything I've written is true to my knowledge. Given a chance, I will work with my maximum and learn something while I'm at it.

Bala Manikanta Chadaram

unpublishd@gmail.com

7386574502